Fr Con's Reflection

So, this weekend we reach the middle of June and are still awaiting some settled summer weather.

Genuinely sunny and warm weather definitely lifts the spirit, and gives the great value of Vitamin D.

When summer weather is demonstrably "grey", we need other factors to lift our spirits: finding adequate personal quality time of quiet ("me-time"); recourse to relaxing classical music. Such can help.

Meditation and Contemplation give a definite boost to our inner selves. As Catholics and Christians, we need to make time to have Jesus unmistakably present in our hearts and minds.

For us, this will be the presence of the Holy Spirit. He is our great Helper- the true source of comfort and consolation for each of us.
